

The Humanities Faculty

The Humanities Faculty is a vibrant, contemporary, and successful team of 11 experienced staff. We offer Geography, History, Psychology, Religious Studies and Government and Politics across key stages 3 – 5, and are passionate about helping our students to engage in the wider world. Outcomes for students are typically excellent with almost all going on to university study when they leave us.

The faculty prides itself on continuing to adapt to meet the needs of 21st century students and making sure our subject offer is relevant to the modern world and supports the career aspirations of our students.

The faculty occupies a suite of 7 rooms and a well-resourced department office. Opportunities exist to book further resources within the school to support learning, and IT is well established within our classrooms.

Our students are amazing, and our team know them well. This provides a calm and purposeful atmosphere built on continuous improvement. Staff development and collaboration is strong within our school and even stronger within our faculty where colleagues provide mutual support to aid professional development.

Come and visit us to meet the team and see how you could be part of our ongoing journey.
